FRESHLY SQUEEZED FROM FLORIDA

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL: CJ GIBSON

INTERVIEW BY JOEL MARASIGAN

It's never supposed to rain in Southern California (especially during a photo shoot) but Murphy's Law had its way. It was a drizzly Thursday in downtown Los Angeles. It wasn't wet enough to slide on, but it was just enough to mix with the dust on the windshield and form a thin layer of mud the wipers couldn't squeegee.

We all went to the cover shoot for this year's Impact Tuner Model Search winner, Miss CJ Gibson. Maybe it was to quell our curiosity since the readers chose who went on the cover. Maybe it was because we knew she was so blatantly hot that to miss this shoot would be an impact scene sin. CJ warned me about her attention deficit disorder tendencies. When it came time for the interview she was all over the place. It was like a conversational car chase where we bounced from topic to topic frequently. Who cares though, right? The girl is nice, and she's hot. After awhile, you understand she's not only comfortable in her skin but she's also not afraid to be herself and do her own thing. Not that you need it, Miss Gibson. Welcome to the impact scene. Have at it.

2NR: Have you been modeling long?
CJ: I actually started modeling two years ago mostly swimsuit modeling. I never thought I could model, but there were a lot of people telling me I should try it. Now I get to be on the cover of Impact Tuner.

2NR: I noticed your abs during the shoot. <She gets up and pulls her shirt up to just below her breasts and flexes with a grunt, then giggles.> Mmm. Nice. You must have played sports in high school.

CJ: I did. Oh wait. Well, I was on the weight lifting team. Oh wait. I was in a weight lifting class! <She laughs.> The only reason I took the class was so I could leave school early. When the teacher left, I'd sneak here to get some sleep.

2NR: OK. So the answer is no. Do you work out?
CJ: I pretend to. I go to the beach. I go to the mall. I go running. I go rollerblading. I go dancing. Most of the time I just try to eat healthy. I'm really an active person so I'm always out and about. I think I have ADD because I can't sit still for more than ten minutes.

2NR: What do you like to eat. Any late-night cravings?
CJ: Ice cream and chocolate. Maybe soup. But French vanilla cappuccinos are my downfall. I have one every other day I pick it up at the gas station and add extra French vanilla creamer fat free of course.

2NR: They only come fat free. This is what you do to keep skinny?
CJ: They say being skinny makes your breasts look big. <She looks down at them.>

2NR: I agree. <We pause and we look at each other knowing what the next question will be.> So how long have you known your friends? <I glance at her breasts.>

CJ: <She looks down again and with a giggle cups, squeezes and shakes them.> What do you think?

2NR: Wow. Well, they're the realest ones ever waved in my face without me holding a fistful of dollar bills and smelling like Pabst Blue Ribbon.
CJ: Well, they're real-ly-mine! <giggles>
2NR: Well, they're real-ly-nice.

2NR: With you doing that I can't hear a word you're saying. Let them go and let's move on. How busy is your schedule?
CJ: Modeling has been my job for a while now and luckily for me I'm booked all the time. I travel a lot and I really do live right out of my suitcase.

2NR: What did you do for cash before modeling?
CJ: I had a job at a pizza place once. I didn't think it was a cool job for a girl because I would have gotten fat eating all the food. By the time I would get off, I'd smell like pizza the rest of the day. In college my parents were really supportive. When I went out I really didn't have to pay for anything because guys were always trying to buy me drinks and dinners.

2NR: So no real jobs, huh? Seems you go out often. Do you have a favorite drink?
CJ: It changes every month. One month it'll be sweet, and sour the next. I'm a vodka girl right now so I'd do a Grey Goose and tonic.

2NR: Purses or shoes?
CJ: Matching purse and shoes. Dior is my favorite. As long as you are accessorizing right, the clothes don't matter.

2NR: What about you makes you so sexy?
CJ: Lots of people tell me I look exotic. What does that mean? I really think it's just my eyebrows or my eyes.

2NR: You do look exotic. How would you make a perfect romantic evening for your man?
CJ: I'd cook a really nice dinner. Set it up restaurant style candles lit. I'd do the typical, Here's your dinner and show him the dinner. I'd have a robe on and say, And here's your feast! It's sexy and romantic, and I get dessert afterwards, too! <laughs> But I'm hardly home enough to do the perfect evening.

2NR: What would a guy have to do to make you fall in love with him?
CJ: He'd have to swoon me.
2NR: What does that mean?
CJ: I don't know but he'd have to do it. He'd have to give just the right amount of chase mixed with the right amount of staying away to get me to want him. I like little games. I don't want him too needy. It's just the same with a guy. No guy wants his girl up his ass all the time.

2NR: No real guy would want anything up his ass at any time. So what do you do?

GJ: I don't play any games.

2NR: What? You just told me you like the game. So what is it?

GJ: I don't know. But I know everything will just fall into place with the right couple.

The guy has to have a good personality.

He has to be able to make me laugh and create a good conversation.

2NR: What does he have to look like?

GJ: He has to be tall, dark maybe mixed with Italian or Filipino. I like guys with gelled, spiky hair. I like him smooth so when I rub on the oil -giggles- we just slip and slide.

2NR: What's after modeling for you?

GJ: I'm also in college but it's hard.

College is overrated like Starbucks.

It's good but not that good. I figure

I'm going to be out of modeling in five years, so I'm going to real estate school, too.

I'll model while selling houses!

<She moves like Vanilla White flipping letters on Wheel of Fortune.>

This is the living room the bathroom maybe he'll buy more houses!

2NR: What do you wear when you want to look sexy?

GJ: Since my stomach is my best feature I wear stuff that reveals it.

But, enough of me.

What do you think is sexy on a girl?

2NR: As long as she wears a white wife-beater with no bra and looks damn hot oh, that's what you're wearing!

2NR: So what's the best pickup line used on you?

GJ: There was this guy who came up to me asking to see the tag on my pants. He got me to come over and when he looked at the label he said,

Just as I thought: Made in Heaven. He basically checked out my ass crack and parties with the dumbest line. It was smooth and I liked it.

2NR: What do you listen to? What's preset on your radio?

GJ: All the hip hop and R&B stations.

2NR: Are you the psycho girlfriend?

GJ: Not anymore. A relationship is all about trust.

2NR: I know models tend to check each other out. What do you look for in a woman?

GJ: Proportion. I've seen pretty faces with wack bodies and vice versa. I tend to like girls like Carmen Electra.

2NR: If you were to sleep with a girl who would it be?

GJ: Angelina Jolie. She's my favorite. She's mel-low and crazy.

2NR: Are you ditsy like Jessica Simpson questioning the origins of buffalo wings?

GJ: Now that was dumb. I've been told I'm the brunette Jessica Simpson so many times, but I'm not ditsy. I'm just funny. OK get this: Before this whole carb craze was big, I was at a club and someone told me the drink I was drinking was carb-free.

And I was like, How can it be carb-free? It's totally carbonated! You know carbs = carbonation. That's something that should have come out of Jessica Simpson's mouth, right?

2NR: Uh, not helping here. By all the votes you got you must have a few fans. Wanna say anything to them?

GJ: It was really cool people voted for me! It's unbelievable. I didn't even know people were voting until someone told me to go vote for myself. People were having fun, and so was I, during that first photo shoot. I think the pictures came out cute. Thanks to all those who voted for me, and I hope to get to meet all of you someday!
